THAW CASE*WILL BE STRONGLY
OPPOSED BY JEROME*Delmas Denies That He Has Withdrawn From Case or Been Superseded

(By Associated Press.)
New York, April 13.—Absolute inaction ensued in the Thaw case today. Thaw spent a restless night, according to the attendants, and slept but three or four hours. He was up early and spent considerable time looking through the newspapers. Reporters who sent up notes received reply that he had nothing to say just at this time.

The first question to be decided by the Thaw side is that of applying for release on bail. If this application is granted, however, it will be strongly opposed by Jerome.

Various rumors are in circulation that there will be a new alignment of counsel for Thaw. Delmas, however, denied that he had withdrawn from the case or been superseded. He was the last caller Thaw had in the Tombs today.

Evelyn's Brother's Caddishness.
A letter written by Howard Nesbit, brother of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw, to Harry Thaw was made public today. It is said, by some one of Thaw's counsel. In it the young man wrote that when White was shot he thought it would be heroic to stand by "the man whose memory to me was so precious."

When Jerome took his statement, Howard Nesbit wrote: "I told him what Florence told me—or at least supposed to have told me. I will put it more strongly and say she never said anything against you that would tend to put you out in any way, I little thinking it would help the man I thought was so good." Nesbit also asked Thaw to loan him a hundred dollars.

Seven For Conviction, Five For Acquittal.

New York, April 13.—After having struggled for nearly two days to reach a verdict the Thaw jury reported a disagreement late yesterday afternoon and was immediately discharged.

The final ballot stood seven for conviction of murder in the first degree and five for acquittal on the ground of insanity. Thaw was at once taken back to the Tombs.

An application that he be released on bail will probably be made by Thaw's attorneys in a short time, but it is regarded as almost certain that this application will be denied.

Distric Attorney Jerome announced immediately after the jury was discharged that Thaw will be tried again, though probably not for seven months. On the final ballot, the jurors who stood for conviction were Foreman Deming B. Smith, George Pfaff, Charles P. Feeke, Parry C. Bready, Charles D. Newton, Joseph H. Bolton and Bernard Gerstman.

How They Stood.

The five who hung out for Thaw's acquittal were Oscar A. Pink, Henry C. Harney, Malcolm E. Frazer, John S. Demsey, and Wilbur F. Steele. The scene in the court room when the jury announced its disagreement, though accompanied with all the formality usual on such an occasion lost much of its dramatic quality, with which it otherwise would have been received, for the reason that Thaw and the other members of his family were aware that no agreement had been reached.

The counsel for each side of the disagreement had been told of the disagreement of the jury before it entered the court room, by Justice Fitzgerald, and this announcement had been immediately reported to Thaw and the members of his family.

The story of the two day's effort by the members of the Thaw jury in their attempt to arrive at a verdict regarding the guilt or innocence of Thaw on the charge of murdering Stanford White is a story of constant strife between the two parties into which the jury had been divided from the first ballot, taken when the jury retired Wednesday.

Take First Ballot.

The first ballot was taken fifteen minutes after the jury had retired from the court room. There was some general talk between the twelve jurors before this ballot was taken. In the course of this talk Juror Harry Daily announced that he was of the opinion that Thaw was insane at the time he killed the architect.

When the votes on the first ballot were counted, eight of the jurors had voted to convict Thaw of first degree murder, and four others voted for his acquittal on the ground of insanity.

From this time on the contest was one between these two wings, of entirely different belief. There was never much hope of reconciling them from the very first. The four jurors who first voted for acquittal never voted for anything else from start to finish, while the seven or eight who first voted for conviction remained so to the bitter end, although some of them were willing to compromise if the champions of Thaw's acquittal could have been induced to meet them half way.

NEGROES IN SECRET SESSION
Claiming to Have Elected Republican Mayor, Are Feeling Their Oats.

Negroes from all over Logan county are holding a secret session this afternoon in the council chamber in the city hall. Reporters are barred. It is said the afternoon was taken up in discussing the constitution and whether the negroes will vote against it in a body or not at the coming election. Judge Perkins, the "African Lion" made a rousing speech in behalf of the constitution and Editor Douglas, of Langston, urged them to vote it down. The coming fall election was also a topic of conversation and it was the sentiment of those present that, having elected Harner mayor of Guthrie, they were entitled to one county officer at least.

FRUIT GROWERS IN SESSION
Discuss Plans for Handling Crop and Will Elect Officers.

The Logan County Fruit Growers association is in session this afternoon in the office of Fred Green. This meeting is well attended and much enthusiasm prevailed over the splendid prospects of this season's crop. The afternoon was taken up discussing the handling of the coming crop and deciding on the places to market the fruit at the best advantage. The officers of the association for the coming year are to be elected at this meeting.

AND ROBB DISMISSED

FALSE ENTRIES CHARGED

Other Indictments Against Bankers Still Pending

Special to Daily Leader.

Stillwater, Okla., April 13.—The federal indictments against Charles E. Billingsley, president, and James C. Robb, vice president, of the defunct Capitol National bank of Guthrie, were dismissed yesterday by Judge John Embury, United States district attorney.

The cases were scheduled for hearing on April 15, in Stillwater, on a change of venue from Logan county. There were two indictments on which the change of venue to Stillwater was granted. One against Billingsley charging him with making a false entry on May 21, 1935, of $100,000 to his individual credit; the other was a joint indictment against Billingsley and Robb, charging them with making a false entry on March 26, 1934, by crediting Robb's account with $19,000, when the indictment alleged he was not entitled to such credit. Both indictments were dismissed on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to sustain the indictments.

The $19,000 alleged credited to Robb's account, was in fact an Oklahoma Sanitarium company note for that amount, both Robb and Billingsley holding stock in that company which still has the contract to care for the insane patients of Oklahoma at the Norman asylum. The asylum stock, a great part of it, became an asset of the defunct bank and has been profitable. The bank failed in May, 1934.

HONDURAS
PRESIDENT
SURRENDERS*LAST STRONGHOLD
GIVEN INTO HANDS OF
NICARAGUANS*WILL PROBABLY END
CENTRAL AMERICAN WAR*No Longer Necessary for United States and Mexico to Intervene

Washington, D. C., April 13.—Bonilla, the deposed president of Honduras, has surrendered and the Central American war is at an end, according to a telegram which was received by the State department from United States Consul Olivares at Managua, Nicaragua.

The dispatch does not give the details of the surrender, but Bonilla has allowed the Nicaraguans to take possession of Amapala, where he has been in person for the past two weeks endeavoring to reorganize his shattered forces, and continue the struggle against the Nicaraguans and the revolutionaries of his own country.

Amapala has always been his stronghold. He fled to that city, which is located on an island in Fonseca bay when his troops were reversed and his enemies were pressing on to capture the town of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, where it was expected that Bonilla would make his last determined stand.

There has been no severe fighting since the capitulation of the Honduran capital, with slight resistance, and the principal effort of the Nicaraguan invaders was directed toward the capture of Bonilla in person. In order to prevent him from making any alliances with Salvador and Guatemala, and thus continuing the war.

The dispatch from the consul at Managua seems to come officially from President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, who has from the beginning contended that the war was not for the purpose of gaining additional territory for his government by conquest, and that after the defeat of Bonilla, the war would end, if the other South American countries would remain neutral.

In view of Consul Olivares' dispatch, it will probably not be necessary for the United States and Mexico to continue the present negotiations for the purpose of ending the war.

COYLE COTTON ELEVATOR BLAZE
Quick Work By Firemen Prevented Spread of Flames.

Fire companies Nos. 1 and 2 were called out at 11:15 this morning to the Coyle cotton elevator, corner of Vilas avenue and Fifth street, which had become ignited by a match in ginning. The firemen made a quick response and would have had the fire out in ten minutes had the elevator been of frame instead of corrugated iron construction, which made it hard to reach the fire inside as the only way they could get next to the blaze was from the inside. The damage to the building and the machinery was about $700, covered by insurance. Cotton bolls, which were being ginned into the elevator, were destroyed by the fire to the amount of $150, not insured.

SLICK EVASION OF LAW
Attorney General Charges Violation of Hepburn Act by Railroads

The sensational charge is made by Attorney General W. O. Crowell that the railroads are violating the anti-rebate clauses of the Hepburn rate bill. He states that no cash rebates are being made, but that the law is being evaded by a clever scheme. He illustrates his point with cement shipments. It is charged that favored shippers of cement are permitted to load a car with from 5,000 to 10,000 more pounds than the bill of lading and the published capacity of the car show. This permits a shipper, loading a 30,000 pound car to put on, in reality, anywhere from 35,000 to 40,000 pounds, the extra pounds being the same as rebate. Judge Crowell has been studying this matter and says he has his suspicions that certain shipments of grain coal and other commodities are being granted similar rebates.

In the matter of a reduction on slack, the Denver, Elgin & Gulf announces a 50 per cent cut per 100 pounds along its line. This makes the rate $1.50 per hundred between Guthrie and Elgin, and $1.75 to points beyond Elgin. The railway company in granting this rate reduction put it into effect on all grades excepting coal, and Mr. Crowell took the matter up with them.

MANGUM; LOSS $75,000

Special to Daily Leader.
Mangum, Okla., April 13.—The plants of the Moore Mill and Gm company, and the Chilesa Cotton Oil company in this city were totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

The loss on the plants and the cotton destroyed is estimated at $75,000, with insurance of $35,000.

It is not known how the fire originated, but it gained considerable headway among the cotton bolls before it was discovered. The local fire department was powerless to check the blaze and only the books and records in the offices were saved.

50,000 CLUB PUTTING IN LICKS FOR GUTHRIE

The 50,000 Boosters club held an enthusiastic meeting last night in the city hall. The special committee appointed by President E. F. Shinn to propose a feasible plan to raise the subscription for locating the Presbyterian college in this city reported that they had decided on a plan and that they would call a mass meeting some night next week in the city hall to submit their proposition.

The committee that was appointed to raise $10,000 in stock subscriptions to secure the location of the cotton oil mill of the Independent Cotton Growers association, that is to be erected this summer at a cost of $60,000, reported that over half of the amount had been raised and that the balance would be subscribed before the next meeting of the club. The election of a secretary was again deferred for another week. The question of consolidating the various business men's and merchants' clubs was discussed at length but no action was taken and a committee composed of President Shinn, Secretary W. S. Spencer and Dr. J. H. Harrell was appointed to confer with the other clubs and report at the next meeting. At the meeting of the club next week the questions of adopting a graduated scale of dues, electing a secretary and the consolidation of all the city clubs under one head will be taken up and disposed of.

WARFARE*ADVOCATES OF PRINCIPLES OF PEACE MEET
TOMORROW*MEN EMINENT IN ALL WALKS OF LIFE*Will Make Peace Congress
More Notable Than Any Ever Held Before

(By Associated Press.)
New York, April 13.—Advocates of the adoption of principles of peace throughout the world have assembled in this city from many parts of America and Europe to take part in the proceedings of the National Arbitration and Peace Congress, which will be formally opened tomorrow evening. For several months plans have been in progress to make the congress more notable, if possible, than any that has been held in the past.

The congress is not a permanent organization in any sense. Neither is it directly affiliated with other associations, though it happens that many of its members are connected with other movements and societies of a similar nature—notably the Inter-Parliamentary Union, founded in Great Britain in 1887, and the Association for International Conciliation, founded by the Baron d'Esternon de Constant, who will be present at the gathering in this city.

Those interested in the congress include the men eminent in all walks of life. The legislative committee, of which Representative Richard Harbord, of Missouri, is chairman, includes these senators: Overman, of North Carolina; Barrows, of Michigan; Bacon, of Georgia; Warner, of Missouri; Knox, of Pennsylvania; Foraker, of Ohio; Culberson, of Texas; and Latimer, of South Carolina. The members of the House of Representatives on the legislative committee include Stuyveson, of Texas; Grand, of Rhode Island; Hadenburg, of Illinois; James, of Kentucky; Hepburn, of Iowa; Broussard, of Louisiana; Littlefield, of Maine; Williams, of Mississippi; Burton, of Ohio, and Keon, of Pennsylvania.

The judiciary committee, which will have an important part in the congress, is made up of Justices Day and Moody, of the United States supreme court; United States Circuit Court Justices Pardee, of Louisiana; Colt, of Rhode Island; Gray, of Delaware; Arthur, of Tennessee; Grosvenor, of Illinois, and Morrow, of California, and the following judges: Chief Justice Clark, of North Carolina; President Keith, of the supreme court of appeals of Virginia; Chief Justice Knowlton, of Massachusetts; Judge McAlvey, of the supreme court of Michigan; Judge McClain, of the supreme court of Iowa, and Chief Justice James Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, and James, of New Hampshire.

Other committees of the congress are made up of college and university presidents, leaders of organized labor, representatives of patriotic societies and business and professional men of national prominence.

Tomorrow evening the congress will open with a musical service in Carnegie hall. Frank Damrosch will conduct the orchestra and chorus. Brief addresses will be made by Archbishop Farley, Bishop Potter and Ralph Hirsch.

On Monday afternoon the first regular session will be held. Andrew Carnegie will preside and deliver the opening address. Mayor McCallan will welcome the delegates and Governor Hurd will make an address. An international meeting will be held Monday evening, when Baron d'Esternon de Constant, of France; Baron Deschamps, of Belgium; Maarten Maarsch, of Holland; Secretary Oscar S. Straus, William T. Stead, H. J. Jan, Adama and other noted speakers will be heard.

At the sessions Tuesday there will be addresses by Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer, Mrs. Ellen M. Hearn, Superintendent of Schools William H. Maxwell, Sir Robert Cranston, President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia university; President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard university; President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton university, and M. Carey Thomas, of Bryn Mawr college.

On Wednesday afternoon Hon. Seth Low, Judge George Gray, of Delaware; Congressman Bartholdt, of Missouri; Hon. William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, and others will speak on "Legislative and Judicial Aspects of the Peace Movement."

The congress will close with a public banquet Wednesday evening at which the speakers will include Mari Grey, governor-general of Canada;

In addition to those already named the distinguished Europeans who will take part in the congress include Lieutenant General Alfred F. J. L. von Loosdoff and Privy Councillor Theodore von Moeller, of Germany; Rev. John Marshall Lang, of Aberdeen university; Dr. John Rhyas, of Oxford; C. F. Moberly Bell, of the London Times, and Leonce Benedite, director of the Luxembourg gallery, and Prof. Marcella Boudle, director of the Paris Museum of Natural History.

INTO PARTY*LET PRESIDENT BE PUT ON PROBATION SAYS
BRYAN*SEE HOW HE WORKS IN DEMOCRATIC HARNESS*Before Placing Him in Nomi-

Democracy's Choice

Knoxville, Tenn., April 13.—"Mr. Bryan, are you ready to follow up the suggestion of John Temple Graves by placing President Roosevelt in nomination at the next Democratic convention?" The question was put to the Nebraskan as he reached Knoxville at 11 o'clock this morning enroute from Chattanooga to Johnston City. He replied:

"Not as at present advised. If Mr. Roosevelt wants to break into the Democratic party he would necessarily have to pass a probationary period in the ranks. We might admit him as do the Methodists in receiving a new member—try him awhile first to see how he works in Democratic harness."

The crowd began piling into Mr. Bryan's car, and he was urged to go to the platform that he might be seen by these several hundred gathered to see him. He was speaking as the train pulled out. He said:

"Mr. Roosevelt is never so popular as when he is advocating Democratic ideas, and about half of his time is spent in advocating these ideas. That being the case, why should we not have an all-Democratic president instead of one who is Democratic but half the time? In appropriating the ideas of the Democratic party the President refers to them as 'his ideas.'"

Mr. Bryan said that President Roosevelt wanted to dilly the railroad rate regulation, but the Democrats had advocated it ten years ago.

WHINE WHEN IT IS TOO LATE

A hide-bound Republican, who voted the Republican ticket straight, rushed into the Leader office crying: "Why don't you expose this rotten police proposition?"

"Harnes has appointed a gang of piggies, gamblers, etc., on the police force."

"Yes, I know all about them."

"Wasn't Nelson fired from the office of register of deeds for malfeasance? Haven't Knowles got court record dating from the time of Ledger, the Englishman, who was robbed, murdered and thrown into the Cotton-wood?"

"Wasn't Pearson fired from the county jail?"

"Wasn't Reynolds discharged by Duke?"

"Has Brumpage worked a day except in saloons, for ten years?"

"Wasn't Al Burnett boss at Teepee's gambling house; and Redman, also?"

"Haven't the police salaries been increased $170 and hasn't the city started to hell on a float?"

"Why don't you show 'em up?"

The Leader is not going to do anything of the kind. The people of Guthrie showed by their votes that they desired a change of administration. The Leader sounded a warning before the election. What the Leader prophesied has come to pass. If the "good people" of Guthrie can stand it The Leader can. It is too late for "hide-bound" Republicans who yelled for "Harnes and a new deal" to whine now. Let them take their medicine. Harnes is in control. If he "zig" the city the Republican voters of Guthrie are responsible. The Leader refuses to be the vent for disgruntled voters. If they don't like the conditions let them hire a hall and hold an indignation meeting.

Burke on Political Conditions.
J. D. Burke returned home today from an insurance tour of Indian Territory.

"The Democrats are wonderfully alive and active on the east side," said Mr. Burke. "The constitution will carry by a hundred thousand majority, Crook has the lead in the governorship race from all I can gather and the indications point to the nomination of Owen and Hoffman. The interviews of Cash Cade and other Republicans saying that the Democrats will win has thrown a damper on Republicans."
